DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1 to 23 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese patent 2002-212672 cited by applicant in IDS dated March 19, 2004 in view of Japanese patent 2002-348615 or Japanese patent 63-195257 for the reasons set forth in office action dated 8-24-06.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 12-26-06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
4. It was submitted that present invention avoids the need for adding an expensive element such as Mo and Ni. It is the examiner's position that JP'672 steel contains 0.05 to 0.6% Mo, which overlaps with applicant's claimed Mo range of up to 0.05%. Moreover, JP'672 does not teach Ni as an alloying constituent. Hence claims would not patentably distinguish over prior art.
5. In regard to newly amended claims 1 and 13 reciting a geared power transmission part and newly amended claim 23 reciting a gear for use in a power transmission, it is the examiner's position that similar to present invention the machine-

Art Unit: 1742

English translation of JP'672 in paragraphs [0001] and [0050] teach using steel for making gears in machine structures.

6. Applicant stated that JP'672 does not teach a gear having a core comprising an interior region, which cannot be carburized as recited in claims 1 and 23. It is the examiner's position that JP'672 teaches a steel part (gear) wherein the surface is carburized with a depth of 50 microns and hence would obviously have a core (center) uncarburized.

7. Moreover, the machine-English translation in paragraph [0030] of JP'672 discloses an average carbon concentration in the 50-micrometer location after carburizing at 0.9%, and one skilled in the art would expect the outer surface of the 50 micrometer depth to have a higher C content of > 0.9% since the higher concentration of carbides would obviously occur on the outer most surface; and hence would closely approximate the 1 to 1.5% C recited by claim 13.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
